MONDAY, NOVEMBER 13

CHAIRMAN BISHOP'S opening of the Summit County Democratic campaign on Friday, October 13, appears to have been something of a hoodoo after all.

MAJOR JONES declares that the large vote polled for his ticket throughout the state represents a non-partisan landslide. A critical inspection of the returns will show that it was more of a Democratic backslide.

THE talk at Washington about ousting Senator Hanna from the leadership of his party is growing bolder. Just how Mr. Hanna can be repudiated without repudiating his Administration is one of the greatest political mysteries of the day.

IF THE vote polled for Hon. John R. McLean is taken as the basis of representation in the next Democratic State convention, Cuyahoga county will have only fifteen votes, while Summit county will have about half that number. In the last convention Cuyahoga county had fifty-four votes; Summit thirteen.

SECRETARY HAY, who wrote the letter to Chairman Dick explaining that the talk of an Anglo-American alliance was all a ghost story, should write another letter explaining why the Administration's party happens to be 50,000 or more in the minority in Ohio, when the same party has invariably had a large majority over all other parties.

WHILE under the presidency of Mr. Emil Gammeter for the year just closed, the Akron Chamber of Commerce brought several new industrial enterprises to Akron, capitalized at upwards of half a million dollars. The new president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. N. R. Steiner, like Mr. Gammeter, is a hustler, and Akron people may expect the number of her factories to be increased materially under his administration.

SOME of Mr. Hanna's foes, both within and without his party, are trying to rob him of the credit for the "glorious Republican victory" in Ohio last Tuesday, but there is one laurel of which he cannot be deprived. It was under Mr. Hanna's brilliant generalship that Attorney General Monnett, the implacable enemy of the Trusts, received only one vote in the Republican State convention. There are yet a few diadems in Mr. Hanna's crown.

THE New York Journal has been reviewing the political situation, and concludes that "it will be easy enough for Mr. Bryan to get the nomination for the Presidency next year. What the Journal wants is to have him win the election. The country needs such a man in the Presidency." The Journal made itself immensely popular with the Democrats of the country by supporting Mr. Bryan and the Chicago platform in 1896, and the fact that it will give them loyal support next year will count for a great deal in the contest.

THE banquet to be given at Twentieth Century hall on the evening of November 20 to the Republicans of the district that elected Garfield to Congress, gives promise of being about the biggest thing in its line that the Republicans of Akron have ever undertaken. In choosing Postmaster Eubank for toastmaster they will have the right man in the right place. Heretofore the projects of the Garfield banquets have failed to discover that the city of Akron was on the map, judging from the way they passed us up. The out-of-town guests will be less exclusive when their Akron entertainers send them home after the banquet.

"REFORMERS" IN CONTROL.
The Ohio Municipal League is going to have a convention at Columbus, November 16 and 17, and it will try to settle the matter of reforming the government of Ohio cities. Resolutions will be adopted by the League, instructing the Legislature in what it ought to do along the lines of Municipal Reform, and perhaps a committee will be appointed to present the League's ideas to the Legislature, but that is about all it will amount to.
There is no more likelihood of the newly elected General Assembly's voting in favor of Municipal Reform than there is of Congress repealing the laws that give trusts the opportunity to plunder the people.

With Boss Geo. B. Cox in absolute control of a safely Republican Senate, through the Lieutenant Governor whose nomination he forced upon his party, the people have no reason to hope for any reform that will benefit their interests.
The new Legislature may stand for popular ideas of reform in theory, but in practice it will do the bidding of the political bosses who have been exploiting the government of Ohio's greater municipalities for their own profit.

A NATIONAL NAVAL RESERVE.
Assistant Secretary Allen Strongly Endorsed scheme in His Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The leading feature of the annual report of Assistant Secretary Allen to Secretary Long relative to the naval militia is his strong endorsement of the plan for the organization of a national navy reserve. He pointed out that the experience of the past year had shown certain changes in the original plan for this organization as contained in the bill submitted to the last session of congress, and that it was pushed with certain amendments prepared by Lieutenant Commander W. H. S. Seward.

In substance that officer said that as the personnel act had made the term of service of enlisted men in the navy four years, the same period should be fixed for the enrollment in the naval reserve. Some provision should be made by which the naval reserve officer should be promoted in war time with the regular army, so that he holds no anomalous date of commission. It is also recommended that steps be taken for the organization of a permanent coast signal system from the retired list of the navy and the employees of the light-house and lifesaving service.

Will Give Him a Chance.
Jeffries says in a signed statement: "After Corbett let the rest come on. Next will be the winner of the Sharkey-Fitzsimmons fight. It is only right that these two should have it out before coming back at me. I defeated them both and am now ready to meet whichever one is the better. I don't care which one it is."

"Talk of me fearing to get in the ring again with Sharkey again is nonsense. He gave me a hard punch or two, but did not come within one hundred miles of beating me. The next time we fight I'll put him out sure, and I think he knows it, too."

"If the two men I have whipped won't come to terms I will take one on after the other in due time. But before that there are others looking for a championship fight that I intend to give a chance. Gus Ruhlin is one."

"When Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Sharkey and Ruhlin have had their chance then I'll take on any remaining pugilists. It may get a bit monotonous, but I'm champion, and must keep the pugilistic pot boiling."

MAD PEOPLE FEARED.

Burglar Major Taken to the Meadville, Pa., Jail.

ANOTHER ESCAPED FROM SWAMP.
Officers Still After Third of the Marderos Trio That Committed Robbery and Shot Officers, at Titusville, Pa. One Burglar Killed.

THISVILLE, Pa., Nov. 13.—As a precautionary measure against possible mad violence in the event of the death of one or both of the policemen wounded in the fight here with burglars, Frank Major, the robber who was captured at Grand Valley, was removed to the county jail at Meadville.

It is believed he is the man who shot Patrolman Sheneby, and that the dead robber is the one who shot Chief of Police McGrath before the chief fired the shot which put an end to his existence. Both policemen are still living, with but little change in their condition. It will take time to tell what the result will be with them.

A portion of the posse which left this city in a special train for Grand Valley to search the country in that neighborhood for the one missing member of the party of robbers, returned here. The robbers had not yet been captured, but men are still on his track and expect to take him soon. He escaped from the swamp in which he was located and was seen going through Grand Valley before the posse arrived.

He had on one rubber, and in that manner was later on tracked over the hill in the direction of the homes of the disreputable gang, who had borne an unstable reputation for some time. Members of the party who returned brought with them descriptions of several members of the gang of desperadoes and outlaws, whose headquarters are at a place known as Yankee Bush, located between Hemlock and Torpedo, in Warren county.

An accident occurred in connection with the search. One of the searching party, James Mahon of Grand Valley, in getting over a log fell and his gun was discharged, the shot tearing through his leg. Mahon was badly wounded and James Blake of Youngstown, O., one of the robbers, was killed. Another robber was arrested and narrowly escaped lynching and another was chased into a swamp.
